Sirs,

As a interested observer of the proceedings against Microsoft, I can't imagine that Microsoft is any different than Intel, Sun Microsystems or Oracle. And I know there are a lot of other companies who dominate there specific industries.

Unfortunately Mr. Gates tends to rub people the wrong way, so right or wrong he both lost and won the case.

I think you did the right thing by settling the suit, now if you could get the "Greedy" to settle theirs, maybe life could go on and even maybe Microsoft would buck the current trend and Hire employees back instead of letting them go.

Respectfully

John G. Yuzzolin
